

Words and Music: Bill Roper
Copyright 2008

Lamplight

Cmaj7                    Am7                    Dm7                    G
It's easy getting close to you in the sunshine of the day,
Cmaj7                    Am7                    Dm7                    G
But how're we gonna do it, when the sunshine goes away?
Dm7                    G                    Cmaj7                    Am7
Yeah, we might sit here in the dark, but I love to see your face,
Dm7                    G
So the lamp here by the sofa might make this the perfect place.

(Chorus)

Fmaj7                    Am7/G
There's a table lamp beside us and the lights are getting low.
Dm                    G
We can spend some time together and see just where things might go.
Fmaj7                    Am7/G
If you want to spend the evening, then let's spend it side by side
Dm                    G
And I'm glad to see you're smiling and your arms are open wide.

I like the conversation when you're nestled in my arms
And I've got no reservation as I'm reminded of your charms.
We talk of this and talk of that, of all the strangest things
And with just the aid of fifty watts, our love is finding wings.

It's good to get to know you with the lights turned on so dim
And I'm glad to hear you tell me I'm a better man than him.
It's been a lovely evening and I love to see your smile.
I'm glad the lamplight let us sit together for a while.